"Capt. Abner Hawley was also in Col. Van Rensselaer's Regiment of Militia in the Revolutionary War."

From Vermont Historical Society, Vermont Revolutionary Rolls, lists two references to a man by the name of Abner Hawley, Capt. Daniel Comstock's Company Pay Roll of himself and Company in the services in the State of Vermont, from ye beginning of the campaign, 1781, to the 30th of June in said year inclusive taken from the original in the Paymaster's Office, Sim. 21 lbs. 16 shillings.

NOTE:-This last item refers likely to a name sake of Capt. Abner Hawley as it suggests him as a private. Also the dates would not indicate he was other than a namesake; might not have been a relative, but likely was as there were many by the name of Hawley in Vermont.

Austerlitz

The town was first settled by squatters from the east who came into these parts about 1750. The first effort at a general settlement was made by a company of settlers who obtained of the Massachusetts government a grant of land some six miles square along the Green River. This tract was divided into two divisions the eastern division being called the first and the remainder the second. Each proprietor was entitled to one hundred acres in each division, the choice of location being made by lot. Names of those who had lots surveyed and assigned to them between 1757 and 1760 were: (I didn't copy them all) Abner Hawley, Job Hawley and Eohn Hawley were listed. The first meeting of the proprietors was held at Spencers Town in 1757. John Hawley was appointed to confer with the Indians and negotiate the purchase of the tract of land within this grant belonging to the Indians, possibly the Mohicans.

Abner Hawley settled in the valley a little northeast of the Pratts and built the first grist mill and saw mill in the town. They were located on Punsit Creek south of the present mill of W.G. Palmer. In 1775 he sold a small portion of his land a water privilege to John Griswold.

Punsit Creek was the southwestern part of town, hence the Hawleys must have settled in the Second Division

The first part of the report is devoted to a description of the general character of the country, and to a statement of the principal occupations of the people. It is then divided into two parts, the first of which is devoted to a description of the principal cities and towns, and the second to a description of the principal industries and occupations of the people. The report is then divided into two parts, the first of which is devoted to a description of the principal cities and towns, and the second to a description of the principal industries and occupations of the people.

Thomas Hawley

Thomas Hawley was the son of Capt. Abner Hawley and Margaret... It is not known just when they migrated from Connecticut and Massachusetts to New York State. It is known that they lived at Victor, Ontario County, New York and that their children were born there. They were farmers and moved to Chautauqua County, New York about 1822. They lived on the lake shore near Westfield, and Ripley Crossing.

Thomas Hawley took up land in Lenawee County, Michigan in 1834. While living in New York State he signed a note with a neighbor and lost all his property; had a sale and sold everything he possessed. His son, Hial Newton, was sent horseback with a jug to get some whiskey for the sale. Hial did not like to see the furniture sold and bid in a couple of kitchen chairs at a dollar apiece and brought them with him to Michigan. His grandson, Archer Calvin Hawley, Webberville, Michigan, has one of these chairs.

Of the children of Thomas and Elizabeth (Terry) Hawley Andros, the oldest was killed in the War of 1812. His father helped build fortifications with an ox team and was a member of the militia. It is traditional that Andros was killed while planting a flag on the breastworks. Manley, the second child married Amanda Perry and lived near Morenci, Michigan in Fulton County, Ohio. Erie married Hannah T. Angles and lived and died in Mahaska County, Iowa. Lydia married a man named Saviland. Viletta married Willis Royce, Chautauqua Co. N.Y. Vicena married Thos. Tower, Pontiac, Michigan. Hial N. married Sarah Baker at Pontiac and lived at Morenci, Michigan. Marquis married Sarah Wetmore and lived at Blanchard, Iowa. Sophronia married George Sherman, Chautauqua County, N.Y. Lorenzo Lande Brown. Freeman married Rhoda Herrick and lived at Forest Grove, Oregon, died there. Thomas Jr. married Sarah Gould and lived at Coldwater, Michigan.

Thomas Hawley lived in Ontario County, N.Y., in 1811. He built a stone house not far from Victor. His son, Erie, helped build the house in 1821. Thomas Hawley lived in Seneca Township, Lenawee County, Michigan in 1840. He lived in several different places, once about six miles north of Morenci on the old stage road. This was a log house. He also lived on a farm not far south of Canandaigua. This house is still standing and the well is the one that was dug and yalled up by him. He lived with his son, Marley after his wife's death. This was in Chestefield, Ohio. The house is still standing in a good state of preservation.

Thomas Hawley wrote religious articles and tracts. The articles were published in the Watch Tower, a newspaper published at Adrian, Michigan. He was an ardent Universalist.

Thomas Hawley's father, Cap't. Abner Hawley also lived at Victor, New York. He was a captain in the Revolutionary War. Thomas was in the Militia in the War of 1812 and helped build the breastworks using a team of oxen. Thomas' son, Andrus, was killed in the War of 1812 (at Ft Erie it is said while placing a flag on the breastworks). His little brother, Hial Newton, was grieved to have him go to war and to pacify him Andrus let him sleep with him his last night at home and gave him a half cent piece (1809) new and shining. Hial Newton had accidentally set down in a kettle of hot corn meal pudding that his mother had set on the hearth of the fireplace to cool. It left scars on Hial Newton's body that remained for life. When the soldiers marched past the house to go to war, Hial Newton was carried from bed, outside with the rest of the family to see Andrus with the rest of the troops go by.

Dr. Chappell was the family physician and thought he could locate the graves of Thomas and Elizabeth (Terry) Hawley in the cemetery at Canandaigua, Mich., where they are buried. but he did not. I saw their graves in 1890 and they had slabs that were not decipherable and were rotten and fallen; small slabs. The graves were fallen in and moss grown. My aunt Agnes showed them to me. Dr Chappell married a Miss Rorick in old age and she cared for him until his death. (Lenawee Hist'l Society, Hudson, Mich.

"Thomas Lawley located upon the land of John Welch and built a stone house which stands upon the farm. He erected a saw mill on Fish Creek previous to 1800; ran it a number of years and then sold out and went west." History of Ontario County, N.Y. 1876, 1876,

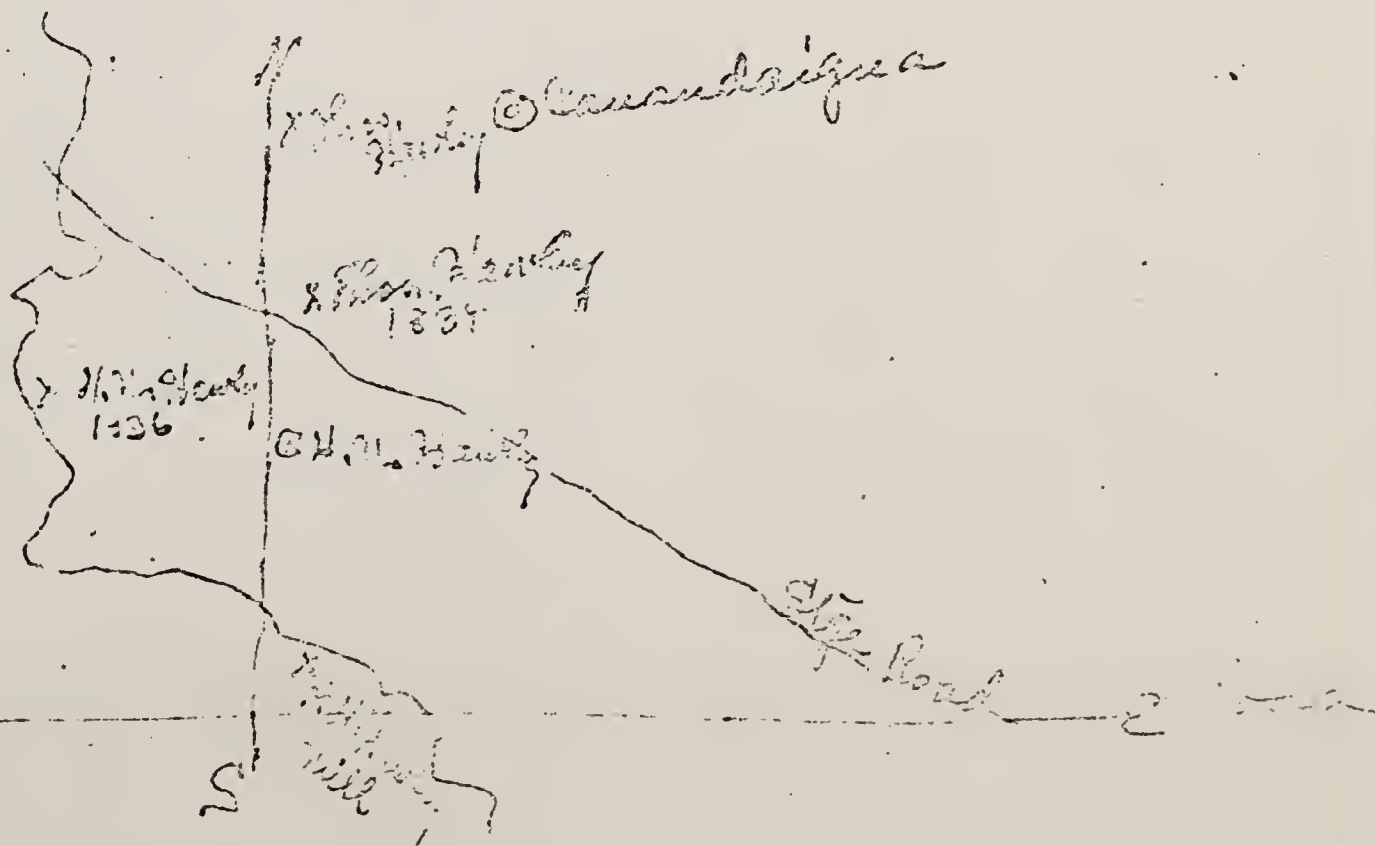

In 1822 he moved from Victor to Chautauqua County between Westfield and Ripley near Lake Erie and in 1834 moved to Lenawee County, Michigan. He built a log house on the old stage road where the Shaffer family live. An old tree stands where the log house was, or rather in front of where it was. He also lived nearer Canandaigua for a time building a frame house there. The open well is still in use and the water good. From here he likely lived with his son Hanley Lawley, Chesterfield Twp, Fulton Co., Ohio not far from Morenci, Michigan. His wife had died in 1840/42.

When his son Newton Hial Newton Lawley married Sarah Baker he they lived with father Thomas until building a loghouse west across the newly laid-out road (North and south) on the west side of the road and east bank of the Bean (Tiffin River) Creek. Here the four children of H.N. Lawley were born. The only thing left of his handwork in 1941 was a pear tree; silent messenger of years ago.

Newton, as he was called, moved from here to nearer Canandaigua and later to what was known as the mill place nearer Morenci. For he operated a saw mill here. He sold this place which he had bought in 1855 and moved in 1881 to south of what is now the Newell farm.

When his son Henry Hial Lawley married Agnes Josephine Smith they lived with the father and here their 3 sons were born. (Henry Hial Jr., Archer Calvin, and Charles Eugene. Henry and Agnes were married in 1872.

No 7 School District known as the Sutton School House was near and attended by the children of H. Newton Lawley. One of the teachers was the famed poet, Wm. Carlton, he gave his autograph card to his pupils on the last day of the term. I now have one of these that was presented to one of the children. Edna (got mad at the teacher and left school because she thought he did not help her solve her arithmetic problems. Emily, her sister taught in this school in the 1850's and her sister-in-law (Agnes Josephine Smith-Lawley) was a pupil of hers.

Born, 179 , Victor, Ontario Co., N.Y.

Died, Killed in War 1812, served Aug 28 1814, Sept 17 1814.
Unmarried.

Andrus was the first and oldest of the eleven children of Thomas and Elizabeth Hawley. He and his father both served in the Militia from Victor. Victor was called Scudder and also Freeman.

Capt Abner and family came to the locality which was government land in the early 1790's ; believed to be one of the 12 original inhabitants who settled at the mouth of what was later called Mud Creek.

Adjutant General's Office, Albany, N.Y. Apr 13 1943.

"HAWLEY, ANDREW, Private in Capt. Jenks Pullen's Company of Caleb Hopkin's (Ontario County, N.Y.) Regiment. State Militia, served from August 28th to September 17th 1814."

NOTE: The name was originally Andrieson, then Anderson, then Andries and then Andrews. At Ipswich, Mass., at one time there were four by the same name so they agreed to change the spelling to Andrus, Andross, Andras, Andrew etc. Some have since gone back to the original spelling which makes genealogical research of the families confusing and difficult.

One day when Andrus and his father were marching in drill past their home, his little brother, Hial Newto ran across the room to see them and accidentally sat down into a kettle of hot mush his mother had set on the hearth to cool and was so badly burned as to carry the scars all his life. A few days after and when the soldiers were again marching by he was carried to the door from the bed to see them and this was the last time he ever saw his older brother, Andrus. He cried the night before about Andrus going away to battle so Andrus to pacify him, in the morning gave him a shining new half penny, of 1809 mintage, and which he kept as a pocket piece all his life. It is now in possession of Archer Calvin Hawley, Webberville, Michigan. he being a gr grandson of Hial Newton Hawley (the little brother of Andru Hawley who went away to war never to return).

OBITUARY OF DARWIN BICKFORD.

Died at his residence on the morning of May 11 1889, of apoplexy, Mr. Darwin Bickford. He was a son of Cyrus and Betsey Bickford, and was born in Westfield, Chautauqua Co., N.Y. May 19 1829,

In the death of Mr. Bickford the community has lost a good citizen, a most kind neighbor and the bereaved family a tender and faithful husband and father. He was a man of whom it could be said with truth, that those who knew him most intimately in his neighborly and home life, saw most in him to admire and love. In his religious belief he was a Universalist, believing that evil and suffering are but accidents of time and that only good can be eternal.

He was a resident of Fulton County, Ohio, for 30 years past, except about two years. In the spring of 1880 he came with his family from Royalton to Wauseon where he has since resided. His wife and two daughters Lelia and Addie will remain in the home. His eldest daughter, Mrs. Hattie Bush, is a resident of Wood Lake, Minn.

The funeral took place from the residence Tuesday at 10:00 o'clock Rev. Harry L. Canfield of Stryker officiating, assisted by Rev. J. G. Smith, Wau- Wauseon. Two brothers and a cousin, Egbert, Orestus and Homer Bockford all of Michigan, attended the funeral. Many of his friends and former neighbors came from Koylaton, and the large number from Wauseon, people who gathered to pay their last respects, indicated with what appreciation and he was regarded. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in this their sudden affliction."

NOTE: Darwin's brother, Egbert was from Charlotte, Mich. He also had a brother, Orestus Bickford and a cousin, Homer Bickford. All three lived at Lyons, Ohio. Moved to Michigan later.

Funerals services were held from the Stockwell Funeral home Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Rev A T Cox officiating. Burial rites were given by the Odd Fellows and the Odd Fellows were pall bearers. Burial was made in the Hawley cemetery, Morenci, Mich, paper. He was born May 5 1870.

Letter from Cora (Hawley-Snow) Jones, April 6 1947.

Dear Cousin Sarah:-

I was glad to hear from you. I am as well as can be expected. Hope you and your brother keep well. I got a geranium like the leaf you sent me. I think they are nice plants don't you? Thank you for the nice card you sent to me.

Attie is the only one of the Yearian girls living; all gone. I can remember them when they lived in Adrian, Mich. We have had severe storms this winter; shut off our fire and water for over a week and the phone; - just got the wires fixed up.

My mother's sister's girl and her husband are staying with me. I am so thankful. Richard was born May 5 1870 and died March 8 1947. His son lives in Indiana; he is 54 years old and married I guess. No, I can't work much any more. Tetsey and Amanda were sisters; there was a Harriet I have heard of. Oh, yes and Sophronia. I don't know if their names were Berray or Hawley. I think Berray.

Well, I will have to make the best of my loss and think of the promise God has made given us all; that we will meet again but I am terribly lonely. I must try and snap out of it but it is hard to do.

Write again. with love, Cora.

Feb. 6 1939. Morenci, Mich. RFD#2. Dear Cousin:

I received your fine letter last January and am ashamed of myself for not answering it. Your cousin, Morell, always wanted me to teach but I liked the out-door life.

In regard to the record of the Hawley family I know nothing about them. Manley Hawley's girls all taught school. They all had a good education.

I just got a thinking that marker in the Hawley Burying Ground must be grandfather Manley Hawley's girl. I heard my father say she died when the apple trees were all in bloom in May 1844. The "C.C.C." must be middle names.

The old house south of our place was built by Smith. My father or way back had a record of the Hawleys away back to Manley. Uncle Edwin wanted it and his wife lost it. I was always so sorry; it would have been here yet.

They told me the Hawleys were very wealthy in the early days. Edwin Hawley was called the "Horse King of the West" at one time. I had a clipping from a Western paper somewhere in the house and another clipping that he was a shrewd detective and always got his horse and cattle thieves.

We got all of Thomas Hawley's farm; we bought where the old house stands. Thoms Hawley was my great grandfather; he had 160 acres besides what we got. Oh yes, another 60 acres adjoining all in a body. Thomas Hawley sold all of it but the 160 acres we got before he died and he had a lot of land atauseon, Ohio and at Canandaigua, Lenawee County, Michigan. I do not know just how much in the latter two places.

We have had a wonderful winter here, no cold. The 31st of January we had quite a snow for this part of the country; it would have been two feet on the level but it drifted real bad.

What are you going to do when you get the record completed, put it in a book, I would like a copy. Hope you can come out and see us; it seems good to hear from my father's folks as none of them are around here.

Write again. Sincerely Cora Hawley Jones.

NOTE: Cora was the daughter of Morell and Caroline (Grimm) Hawley; grand daughter of Manley Hawley and great grand daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Terry) Hawley. She lives in the brick house her father built which is across the road and a little way south of the Manley Hawley house. The Hawley Burying Ground is only about 60 rds south of the Manley Hawley buildings and is on his farm. It is beautifully cared for.

Elisha Stratton Hawley

Elisha S. Hawley was born on his father's farm in Chautauque Co., N.Y. and came to Ohio with the family in 1832 to Champaign, or Logan, County.

He came to Mahaska Co., Iowa, in the spring of 1851 returning in the fall to marry Mary Wilson in Sept or Oct. of that year. He and his bride started in a covered wagon, driving horses, the second day after they were married to go West. The second day after starting one of the horses died. They purchased another with the one hundred dollars her father had given her for a wedding present and continued their journey. Upon arriving in Mahaska County, Iowa, they had exactly 35¢ with which to face a hard cold winter. They lived on corn meal and water and nothing else for six weeks.

Elisha was the first of his father, Erie Hawley, family to come west. He purchased land in Sec 26 Twp 76 R 14 Mahaska Co., of John Culbertson at $1.25 an acre. His farm is recorded Jan 5 1853. This farm is the old home place and is now being lived upon by one of the descendants.

Elisha rode horse back from his home in Mahaska Co. to Manchester, in Delaware Co., Iowa to visit a cousin, Mrs. Jas. F. Gillespie, nee, Emily E. Hawley, in 1871? and later in 1876 drove a span of horses and carriage bringing his wife, Mary. It took three days for the trip one way.

Elisha and Mary, his wife, were of excellent physique and had dark hair and blue-gray eyes.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the success of any business or organization. The author argues that without reliable records, it is impossible to make informed decisions or to identify areas for improvement.

2. The second part of the paper focuses on the challenges of record-keeping in a digital age. While technology offers many advantages, it also introduces new risks, such as data loss and security breaches. The author suggests that organizations should implement robust backup and security protocols to mitigate these risks.

3. The third part of the paper explores the role of record-keeping in legal and regulatory compliance. It highlights the importance of maintaining records that can be used to demonstrate adherence to various laws and regulations. The author notes that failure to do so can result in significant penalties and reputational damage.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the importance of record-keeping in financial management. It explains how accurate records are necessary for preparing financial statements and for identifying trends and patterns in spending and revenue. The author suggests that organizations should use record-keeping to optimize their financial performance.

5. The fifth part of the paper concludes by summarizing the key points and emphasizing the overall importance of record-keeping. The author reiterates that record-keeping is not just a bureaucratic requirement, but a fundamental practice that underpins the success of any organization.

Respected friends and relatives

I take my pen in hand to write a few lines to let you know that we are all well as usual except myself. I am yet afflicted with my lameness in my back and it is difficult for me to walk about part of the time, and I intend to start on a visit to Ohio and likely to New York if my health and strength will admit of it in the course of five or six weeks if nothing happens, and I intend to go by way of your daughter Emily if I can find out where she lives. Harriet Hawley wrote to me last fall that she intended to come and make me a visit if she could find the way there. I wrote to her and told her how to find us but have not heard from her since. Her letter was mailed at Manchester, Delaware County, Iowa, but Harriet did not tell me what Emily's husband's name is, and when you get this letter I want to have you answer it so that I can find them. I wrote you a letter some three months ago but have not got an answer. I have not much news to write. We have had a fine pleasant fall and winter so far and every thing is on the decline in prices here and money is hard to be got and people begin to complain of hard times. Wheat 70cts. corn 25cts. pork 5cts. I think I wrote to you something about an invention of a water wheel and have applied for a patent but have not a patent yet and not certain I will get one but would like to get it before I leave home but likely if nothing happens and have good luck I will be at your house in the course of two or three months and then we can talk together better than we can write. Nothing more at present,
Yours respectfully, Erie Hawley to Newton Hawley"

"Emily: I will write a few lines on your Uncle's letter and send it to you. I thought perhaps you would like to read it and write to him. Emily I am afraid that some of you are sick for you do not write. I have not received only one letter from Hattie since she went there and Henry has had one. She said she would write often and why don't she. I think of you all every day and wish that I could see you but we are a great ways apart. Emily take the best care of your health and tell Hattie to do the same. My health is not very good this winter. Your mother is getting to be quite an old lady almost fifty five. I can see that I am going down hill all the time. Edna is not far away but she does not come home. It is most 10 years since she was at home. Emily I know if you lived so near home you would come once a year. I think you would and I should visit you to or three times a year. I received a letter from Edna a few days ago and she said she was well but she did not think they would get in their new house before spring. Can you tell me where brother Lewis is. We can't find out where he is living if he is alive. Riansy Brower came over here one day last week. He is quite smart. He looked on the map. He said it was a nice map. Henry has a hard cold. Your father's health is pretty good. Hattie Hall Converse is some better. We have had some cold days this winter but beautiful sleighing. Emily I don't do much only cook all the time. Today is Monday and that I used to now and went to school together but the country had changed wonderfully and I was there 8 or 10 days. There is three large churches that has been built since I was there. The last one that was a Methodist and the building and steeple I think by the looks of it is as much as 80 feet high and got an organ that cost 1000 dollars in it and I think that when the eagles or angels light on the top of the spire that they will have to listne to hear the musick when it is played. I dont believe if that if there should happen to be an angel pass that way he would be invited to come in to preach in their churches. Slept in the stone house that I helpt build 47 years ago. got some apples to eat and sider to drink that was made on the old farm. had a fine visit and left for home got back in three days. found all things safe. got an answer from Washington of my patent and it is rejected. they dont say that it interferes with anybodys invention; they say that the V sahped buckets are not new and that they cannot see any utility in my invention and my agent thinks that I am entitled to a patent and by sending twenty-five dollars I can git an appeal. I dont intend to send for an appeal. We have had a fine nice spring so far but quite cool today. I think you will be tired of reading this epistle and will bring it to a close. We have had some bad winds. wheat is worth 15cts. corn 35cts. oats 40cts. potatoes 25cts. fat hogs 4cts. Money is scarce. Please write soon and let us know how you are a gitting along. Yours truly

Note : The above letters were written on long sheets of foolscap paper; one on either side. The first is from Erle Hawley to his brother and wife, Hial Newton Hawley, Morenci, Mich. the second is from Mrs E H Hawley to her daughter, Mrs Emily Gillespie, Manchester, Iowa. The envelopes were yellow and orange in color and the stamp 3¢.

Respected friends and relatives I thought that I would try and write a few lines and let you know how we are all a gitting along we are all well as usual. I was at Anandays together with her children about one week and had a good visit. went to see Sickford that married his cousin. stayed with them one night. I think he is a pretty fine kind of a man and a doing well. and then went to Richardsons that married Samantha and to Elizabeths. her husbands name I cannot think of it. they were all well and a doing well off and a doing well. stayed a week and then left for New York got to Royces the next day and found them all well except one of Newtons children that was sick and was not any better when I left for home. I was there about one week and then left for Victor. got there at the railroad depot. stayed there all night and the railroad goes through a little South of where the Turners used to live. went across the flat to Victor then to where Grandfather lived. found ~~Anderson~~ (Cedar Run ?) and the springs but did not find the house and barn but found the orchard or otherwise I would not have known the place. they have taken away the old Methodist ~~meeting~~ meeting-house and built another one of brick that has cost 15000 dollars and got an organ in it that cost 1000 dollars. built a presbyterian house and a Universalist Church. has made quite a live little place. went along over to Harry Boughtons. hes living on the old farm where his father died but he did not know me and he was pretty much surprised and unexpected to see me. he has made some improvements on the house and a little addition to the old barn and the place looks quite natural. stayed there a day or two and talked over our old acquaintance. had a fine time together with his wife and children and it rained like old times once more. he is

"June 6 1938, Hendersonville, N.C.

I was quite surprised to get your letter. Delia has been gone 22 years. Later I married Amazette McCause (Hawley). Somehow I liked the name and the Hawley girls were fine. Delia died in Des Moines in 1915, Amazette in Delta in 1926. I do not hesitate to say to you that of all the Hawley tribe, my wife, Cordelia (Delia) was the flower of the flock, the pick of the lot. I only know one of equal to her among women and that is our daughter Grace.

I attended a National Dairy Association Convention in Manchester, Iowa, in 1882 or 83; made an address--later in Cedar Rapids, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis. I was twice in Strawberry Point, Iowa.

I was a teacher in Iowa Schools 20 years (Oskaloosa, Sigourney, Knoxville, Albia, Delta, Shannon City) and Editor 30 years (Oskaloosa, Knoxville, Albia, Bussey, Barnes City)."

Your interesting letter just received. I have filled out the questionnaire as best I can.....I began teaching in 1867; 13 mos. in Rural Schools, 20 years in High Schools, or as City Supt. and one term County Superintendent of Mahaska County. In all I attended 20 or more I.S.T.A.; made addresses at most of them, advocated reform in Courses of Study to admit Agriculture, Manual Training, Domestic Science; brought about the Uniform Examination of teachers in all counties under the State Superintendent; was 12 years on the School Board in Oskaloosa, Iowa; attended S.U.I. with H.E. Seerley; gave him his first work as Conductor of Normal Institute (318 enrolled); knew VonCoellen, Henry Sabin, William Beardshear, Charley Rodgers, (Marshalltown), Celia Currier--S.U.I.; J.W. Akers of Cedar Rapids, also State Superintendent.

I am sure we could talk together we could "scrape up" an acquaintance. Dr. Harlan Updegraff of Cornell College (now of Swarthmore) is one of my best friends, as was the lamented Walter S. Athearn of Drake University, later head of Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana.

You and I could write an Educational History of Iowa that would be of importance. I used to write to Dr. Seerley and say: 'Homer, you must write a School History of Iowa. He wrote back and said: 'Do it yourself, you are a writer, I am not, you know the story as well as any one living, do it yourself.' That was as far as I ever got with him.

Glad to hear from you. I am interested in what you are doing. If I can help you more, I sure will, Respectfully, J.W. Johnson."

I know you have the data correct about the Royce family at Ripley, New York. There was one son, Simeon, a bachelor, and at the age of 50 or more visited the Erie Hawley family at Indianapolis, Iowa.

I met him about 1869 or 70. He wanted to marry his Cousin, Cordelia, but I outgeneraled him.

Then in Victor the family, Hawley, lived on the lake shore in Chautauque County (Mayville the County Seat) and we were there in 1892 and tried to locate Eric Hawley's 320 acres that he abandoned (had perfect title) when he left and went to Ohio. A fire had destroyed all records and we could do nothing. Senator Hawley of Connecticut, -our Hawleys were surely related to him.

I have a Normal Degree from S.U.I. (equal to I.S.T.A. Cedar Falls) and that gave me a Life Diploma for teaching in any county in Iowa. Only 12 of those were ever issued. Delia and I attended S.U.I. a year after we were married. Delia did not have an A.B. but was very well educated, and wise and a good woman, and I ought to know for we lived together 43 years after a splendid courtship of 5 years. For my second wife I married Amazette, daughter of John S. and Mary Hawley.

Hannah Angles, wife of Eric Hawley, had a sister (I am not sure of her name). The girls were born at Scranton, Pa. and were left orphans and brought up by adoption. They were separated when young Hannah married Hawley and they entered 320 acres of land on the shore of Lake Erie near Ripley. The other sister was taken to Clarion, Pa. and became the wife of one Mr. Wilson, as I understand. One of their sons was Judge Wilson of the West Pennsylvania District, in the immediate section where the first oil gusher (said to be the strongest well) ever tapped in the United States. Delia and I visited the widow of Judge Wilson and made the acquaintance of several of Delia's cousins, -the Wilsons. One was the wife of Walter Greenland. (Walter's father, Mr. Greenland, of Philadelphia, a banker, had married a Miss Africa, a place where extremes met - the Equator and near the North Pole. Delia and I visited these people and I am giving you real dope. The entire set of them were prominent, worth-while people. In fact what I have said here about these Clarion people can be said of Hannah Angles - either Hawley mother of my wife. No mother-in-law jokes go with me. She was a saint if there are any, and there are.

Amazette had a splendid voice and much ability in directing church choirs and as a leader in community singing. She was especially devoted to her home and her people, -unselfish devotion. She was a fine performer on the organ and a fine vocalist."

Letter of Helen V. Brown.

Dear Cousin:

Plymouth. Mich. Aug the 8 1858

I have not forgot to write yet if it is a good while. I have sit down two or three times to write but it was after dark and I was tired so I would put it off thinking I would get time so you can excuse me this time. I am not to work out now. I have left Durfees; the work was so hard I could not stand it and they want willing to give but a dollar and I thought I would leave and work where the work was easier and get just as much a week as I did thair. We had six cows; over a hundred chickens to feed three times a day; 10 in the family all the time and one of them a baby and it kept me bobbing and Mrs. Hoyt was such a shirk; she would go off and sew and leave me all the work and the children to wait on. When I went thair I was to have all the time I could get to do my mending. I had to mend the boarder's clothes. I have set up after 12 o'clock to mend his clothes when I would not do it for myself because I was too tired but she thought thair was no profit in keeping a hired girl and do it herself, so I told her I would not work any longer, she might get another girl, and now she says she dasent leave her to get a meal of viduals for she dont know enough. She says she cant go and leave everything and go as she did when I was thair.

She and her husband has left me six nights with nobody but the border and Mr. Durfee. I did not like it much. Jasper has the ague, and Reuben is well and I shall be when I get rested. I got to sew for Aunt Polly, some. I could get all the sewing I could do without working out, but I cant stand it to sit so steady. Aunt Betsey has been very aick with a cancer on her breast so she could not have her bed made for four weeks nor her clothes changed. She could not speak a loud word for 10 days; she had to lay on her back all the time. She said she was glad when she could drink and not have it pored down, she did not know what to do. She is getting better so she can sit up some now. I am a going out to Thomas' in two or three weeks after we get through with our camp meetings. Their has been 17 camp meetings in this state this year. what a glorious time. I heard Thomas was a going to have an addition to his family. I heard it pretty straight to. Uncle Reuben has been blessed with a daughter this summer. He has 4 girls and 2 boys and Jap makes three, quiet a family, -oldest 13 years and youngest 8 weeks. Hired girls has their hands full of squaker this summer. 25 babies and I should think as many more a coming along; by and by a fruitful year this.

O such times was never herd of, I will get married to and be one among the rest. They say I am a going to have Mr. Durfee. I will have my great grandfather first for he is old enough to be. I had an offer the other day to but I told him I want ready yet. I went to Sabbath School celebration the other day to Perrensville and had a very good time. We had a good dinner and some good speaking from Professor Sill of Ypsilanti and W. Gregory of Plymouth. I went ahuckelberrying the other day 5 miles beyond Northville; nine girls and four boys and amerry set to. We got home about 10 o'clock at night. We did not get any berries. I must stop now for it is most 12 o'clock and I am a going to a funearl to Plymouth with Aunt Polly. Write, as often as I do, it will serve me just right. Helen V. Brown. Lucina's letters to Nankin Po.

Note: The paper on which Helen wrote was tinted blue and sheets very small. She wrote an extremely fine hand and covered evry atom os space in another hand writing at the top was: "You must hurry and get well if our folks come up there Sunday mother will come. You must come down here, Emily."

STRONG CONVICTIONS

Such Are The Characteristics of the late Reuben Brown
Taught School 27 Terms

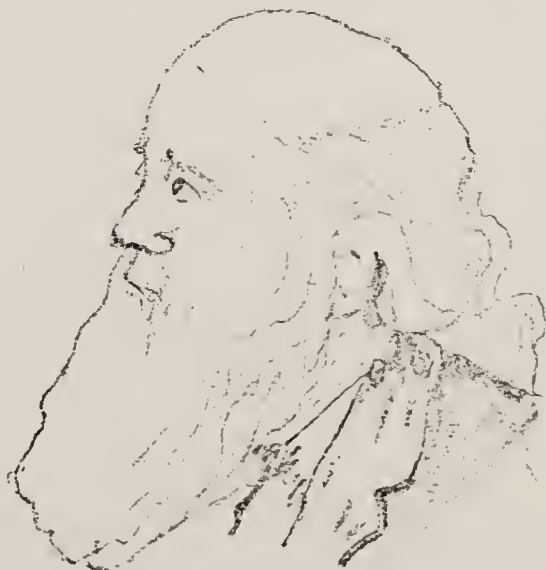

Was Esteemed and Beloved by All Who Came in Contact With Him--Exodus of Plymouthites for the Worlds Fair--A Feast for the Worlds Fair in Preparation.

Plymouth--From our own Correspondent.

Reuben J. Brown, a well known and honored veteran workman in the fields of Agriculture, Education, Temperance and Free thought, laid down his cares and passed to his reward, Aug 27. He first began to deal with the perplexities of life in the town of Homer, Courtland County, New York, on Feb 1 1819

Being one of a family of fourteen children, he early learned to care for the interests of others and welfare of others, so on leaving home he chose temporarily the profession of teaching as a stepping stone to a future entrance into the Baptist ministry. With these aims he came to Michigan in 1842 and here found the realization of his youthful dreams of love in marriage with Miss B. A. Kingsley in 1845. But now, from reading and pondering with on the writings of that great exponent Unitarianism, Thomas Payne, he became convinced of their logic, abandoned his previous thoughts of the ministry and devoted his energies to his farm, to teaching twenty-seven terms of school, to rearing creditably a family of seven sons and daughter, to advancing by precept and example the cause of temperance, morals and free thought religious thought, and to furthering what he thought the best interests of freedom and his country by an unswerving devotion to the principles of the Republican party. He died at the age of 74, and, after appropriate remarks by the Rev. Reed Smart, of Detroit, his remains were borne with love and reverence by his six sons and sons-in-law as pallbearers to their last resting place in the cemetery at Newburg.

Mrs. Emma Waker, daughter, lives either in Mansville, Mich. or 803 Clark St. Lansing. c/o Mrs. Lucile Tidswell.

Lyman is an unusual name in the Haviland family and I thought I had the correct lead sure since the date was about right. Also since the Uncle of our Lyman, Charles Haviland, b. 9/27 9/26/1777, m. Sarah Powers, b. 8/7/1785 for his 2nd wife.

~~~~~ Reminiscences, Events, Notations, Etc. ~~~~~

When Hial Newton Hawley was five years old his older brother, Andros, and his father, Thomas Hawley, were in the Militia. They were called out at regular intervals for training. One day when passing the house little Newton, as he was called, ran across the room to the window to see them and tripping, fell into a kettle of hot mush that his mother had placed on the hearth to cool. He was badly burned and carried the scars for life. When the soldiers marched past for the last time before leaving for service little Newton was taken from the bed and carried outside to see them. He cried the night before Andros and his father were to go away and to pacify him, Andros let him sleep with him and in the morning gave him a bright, new "one-half cent, 1909." This he kept as a pocket piece for many years, finally giving it to his daughter, Emily, and who, in turn, gave it to her daughter, Sarah.

Another event in Hial Newton Hawley's young life was when his father held an auction sale to clear himself from a debt he acquired by signing a note with a neighbor and losing all he had thereby. Newton was sent on horseback with a jug to get whiskey for the sale. When the kitchen chairs were put up he bid a dollar apiece and so got two of them which he brought to Chautauqua County, N.Y. in 1832 and to Michigan in 1834. These are still in use in the home of a grandson. It was on this trip when the family moved from New York State to Michigan that the family stopped at the Baker Inn at Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan and Herto met the daughter, Sarah Baker, who later became his wife.

Addenda:-

On account of distances and dangers Emily Hawley did not attend school until twelve years of age. She learned rapidly and attended Barrows Academy after which she taught country schools.

She said when she was a little girl they wore pantalets trimmed with narrow ruffles edged with dainty lace; likewise their petticoats. And they wore fine grape vines in the hems of their full dress skirts to hold them out better.

She did tatting, knitting, netting, stiletto embroidery, and when itinerant teachers went from house to house in pioneering times she learned tailoring, fine sewing and shoe making. Her stiletto was home made from a piece of the bone handle of her parasol, other tools also home made from hickory as were the netting needles and shuttles etc. Emily sewed not only for the family but for others making fine shirt bosoms of the finest kind of linen and using a needle but an inch in length and taking up only four threads of the cloth for a stitch and back stitched.

On June 8 1861 she left her home in Michigan and in company with her Uncle Henry Baker came to Coffins Grove, Delaware County, Iowa and kept house for him and his daughter until her marriage Sept 18 1862.

After marriage she did sewing for others besides for her own family, including the making of men's suits and overcoats for her husband and son and winter cloaks for herself and daughter. She had a large garden and raised turkeys by the hundred. She did the millinery for Thorpe Bros store. Much of the outside work was done at night; sometimes nearly morning.

She was fond of art and elegance and the adornment in her home was done by her hands; wall pictures in pencil; embroideries; etc. She was ambitious to provide a comfortable and cheery home and devoted to the education of her children.

This was the delineation of character and abilities etc of my mother and every word is true. As I reflect on my mother, - her intelligence, energy, skills, fine language with never a slang word or phrase, her modesty and grace and nobility of womanhood, her dauntless courage to undertake tasks all too heavy for her size and strength; her kindly yet persuasive manner under all kinds of trials, and above all that during her 8 years of creeping paralysis she never uttered a thought or word of complaint or when the pain was intense and hard to bear. During the last two years when she was entirely helpless except the use of her right hand and I cared for her night and day changing her position every two hours, and sometimes I would be so dazed and we would go down on the floor together she would say, "Never mind, it didn't hurt much", and laugh. Altho I knew it did hurt. Those sad and trying years are gone and she cannot suffer any more pain or sorrows; her pure soul has gone to its Maker who cares for His own. I have been reading her Diary that she kept from 1858 to within a few days of her death. She said and hoped and prayed and worked with determination that her "children should be what she might have been and do what she might have done." I pray that my life has been an honor to her and her memory.

Edna Irene Lawley wrote her sister, Emily, "We first met on the train going to Detroit in February and he came out to our house the last of March on a Thursday. One week from that day we were united as one. We went to Toledo and he got me two new dresses, one bonnet, one pair of kid gloves, balmoral, and 13 yards of factory. My bonnet cost ten dollars."

Edna's sister, Harriet wrote Emily, "Edna was married in the blue parmento dress she had last winter."

Before her marriage Edna helped her aunts with this and that and wrote to her folks often even when not far away; sending the missives by some chance person who was going that way: "April 7 1861, Aunt Mary Colegrove has a little girl." "Aug 19 1861, I've been to Uncle Lewis' three weeks helping clean house... Brother Henry and I attended Medina Academy last winter, he was janitor for his tuition." "Dec 8 1862, Maria, Harriet and myself are sitting by the table. We have been up to Uncle Jonas Ackers.... Uncle Lewis has been gone just two weeks tomorrow, is coming home in one or two weeks."

Frank McKyes, son of Wallace and Edna I Lawley McKyes, ran a roller skating rink six years after which he ran a threshing outfit for 13 years. The last 18 and more years of his life he was a repair man in the Ford Motor Factory in Detroit.

mother, Mrs. H.H. Hawley - some time after mother's passing. Mrs. H.H. Hawley, her daughter-in-law wrote that she read it 55 years ago and refused to lend it. This was Aug. 7, 1928, that Aunt Agnes wrote the letter about it.

Henry Hial Hawley Jr.broke his arm in Nov 1924,he was on a 400 acre farm in Missouri at this time.

1931 Where Barrows Academy stood there is nothing b t a wheat field. It was a two story log house. Emily E Hawley, my mother, attended it.

Medina Academy where the children of H.N. Hawley attended is still standing among large grove of trees. The old Woodworth tavern between Morenci & Fayette is still standing, - old and worn.

I picked a few leaves from Uncle Henry Hawley's grave; a rose from the Jacob and Emily Baker lot; grape leaves from the Horace and Olive Warlick lot; rose buds and leaves from the H.N. Hawley house where I learned to walk; and lilies, lilacs and roses outside the fence.

Cousin Louise, Henry Hawley's wife and I went about seeing old places and new and one day drove past the WILL CARLTON memorial boulder that has been placed at his birth home by the DeaRee Co. Federation of Women's Clubs.

It is on the south side of the road and ~~eee~~ consists of a 5 foot granite boulder with a bronze plate bearing the inscription:

"BIRTH PLACE OF WILL CARLETON, 1845-Poet-1912. Erected by the Lenawee County, Federation of Women's Clubs." There is a quill and pen crossed in the carving near the top. The memorial is in front of where the log house stood in which the poet was born.

It was of interest to me because when a child my mother had told me of his keeping company with her sister and herself. He once taught in the district where they had attended. Edna went to school to him also but got vexed because she thought he did not help her enough in her arithmetic and quit school.

Webberville, Mich. Aug 24th 1934, .

Dear Cousin Sarah:-

We received your most welcome letter and interesting letter today, and as we do like to hear from you will answer without delay.

Thanking you for the compliment you gave me concerning my letter; because, you see, I don't really like to write them and am sure I should do much better.

I try so hard to make Vining write; I'm sure you'd like to hear from him, too. But now he always says to me: "I don't like to, Mildred, won't you?"

So as Dad just can't find to do so, and Grandma can't see very well, I guess it's up to Mildred the news to proceed to tell.

We, too, have had considerable rain, But for the early beans it came too late. However, the pasture is improving and the late beans look first rate.

The drouth has certainly played havoc with everything everywhere it seems and I agree with those of the Divine Dispensation because evrything will be as He deems.

Yes, Grandma has had a time with her chickens; They'r all sizes and shapes this year. She has some not quite a week old for which she will have to make leggings, I fear.

Just now we are having a cold spell. It's just one thing after the other. Have had one bad frost already, and tonight it looks like another.

Yes, Dad is so very busy with the work, I fear sometimes he will overdo, as he takes people's troubles to heart so, and they worry him so much too.

I am sure you find your genealogy project very interesting and quite a pleasure; and that we will all appreciate a copy to read at our leisure.

Yes, of course, I think my brother a darling, he is so very sweet and good. He creeps all over and will be walking soon. He's a year old 'tis time he should.

Speaking of your liking to see him; we would all like to see you, too. I'm planning on it next summer. Don't disappoint me now, will you?

You ceratinly have done some canning. But this winter wont it look good? I have canned a considerable amount, yet not as much as I should.

Grandma says to tell you she is going to try and write, but not to expect too much as her writing is a sight.

Lewis Baker and his wife (quite feeble) were callers the other day. They have lft their place in Lansing and have moved to Williamston to stay.

Grandma is baking cookies today. She'd like to send some to you I've sampled them and they are so good, I wish you had some too.

We have papered the dining room and also the kitchen too, my mother and Vining were the decorators, but you should see the job they can do.

Vining has the tractor torn to pieces. 'tis a little old and refuses to run, but they are repairing it as fast as they can, and I guess it will soon be done.

Well, my letter is getting quite lengthy; perhaps a bit tiresome too, so will close and wait patiently for our next letter from you.

Love, Mildred.

March 1st 1935, I have not been very well; went to the doctor who said for me to rest and keep still. you can imagine one keeping those orders with a baby and the work to do....

June 18 1937, Charlie's wife, Grace, is in bed much of the time, and in lots of pain; has been in the hospital and looks as though she would have to go again. Raymond is tall and slim; head and shoulders above Vining.

Oct 31 1937, I don't need to tell you that I keep busy from morning till night, now that the baby has come. He is very light, his hair and skin are so very light.. Grandma composed a poem the other day about "Vium"; they are pills containing vitamins and tonic, Through the radio contest and she won a dollar with it....

Feb 3rd 1938, Dear Cousin Sarah:- I received your letter today and it made me sad when I read it, that it did not come just a little sooner. In spite of all our kind and loving hands could do for her, God called home our dear, dear Grandma, whom He has so graciously spared us so many years.

He must have known how very tired she was. Each day was beginning to seem eternally long to her. Her work on earth was done and she longed for, "Well done my faithful servant, come home." But, Oh it was so hard to give her up! The house seems so lonely without her, I can hardly stand it at times, and little Fey LeRoy is hardly himself. He is too young to understand and it makes it harder than ever.

She was taken ill on Monday Jan 25th. She did not seem any worse than usual until Friday evening and passed away Saturday evening at 7:15. She was conscious until the last. She would have been 86, Feb 17 1938.

We laid her to rest Tuesday afternoon; the service here in the morning. We then took her back home. In her last hours she dreamed of being back down to Merenci, caring for her house, sheep, chickens, etc.

She was one of the dearest old ladies that I ever knew, and I only wish she might have lived to hear the lovely tribute you paid her in your letter- last letter. She was very happy to receive your letter of the week before. You remember you wrote it just to her instead of through me.

She had so many friends here. She had just lovely flowers and so many they filled the corner of the room and they were so beautiful. If she could have but known, she would have been so pleased.

We cannot wish her back. Her life race was run. She longed to rest and she had been in such poor health the past few months. I will try to write more when I feel more like it, dear Sarah. God bless you and keep you. Love, Mildred.

April 15 1938, Dad has been so busy; there are so many people obtaining loans on their farms now, that he has much appraising to do.... It seems to me I have had a household filled with inuklids all winter; it is now getting spring and we can turn our thoughts to gardening and chickens; and I am reminded every-day more and more every day of Grandma. It is very lonely when the men are working and the baby is asleep; the house seems so big and empty. But she suffered so much the last few months, it seemed as if hardly a day passed that she didn't have a coughing spell and stomach cramps. She couldn't eat enough to keep a chick alive. She was terribly poor."

Dear Sarah:-

Webberville, 7-18-1938

Mildred has been insisting every time I come in the house that I answer Sarah's letter but, My Dear, you know just how hard it is for us men to write letters when we can shift the burden on the weaker sex, and since Mildred has been here, it is so much easier for us to have her do the writing than to do it ourselves.

But, Sarah, we think of you and talk of you a great deal and we would all be so happy if you would just write and say you were coming out here for June 5 1922, Son Henry bought 80 acres of land two miles from my father's, Calvin Smith home farm, and lives there. He left Missouri.. This is known as the old Dawes farm.

Archie's wife, Viola, died April 18 1917... Archie's oldest boy, LeRoy, died of anemia New Years night aged 21 years. He was a thorough gentleman, belonged to the National Guards, I.O.O.F. and had a host of friends.. It was a long procession from Webberville to Florenci to lay him away beside his mother. I loved Ola, Archie's wife, as my own. Vining had an operation for appendicitis less than a year after his mother's death; came out all right... Charley worked in the machine shops 20 years. He bought a fruit farm--peaches and cherries--4 miles South of Adrian and just moved on it this spring... I am 76 years of age and weigh 82 pounds. Your aunt and true friend, Agnes J. Hawley."

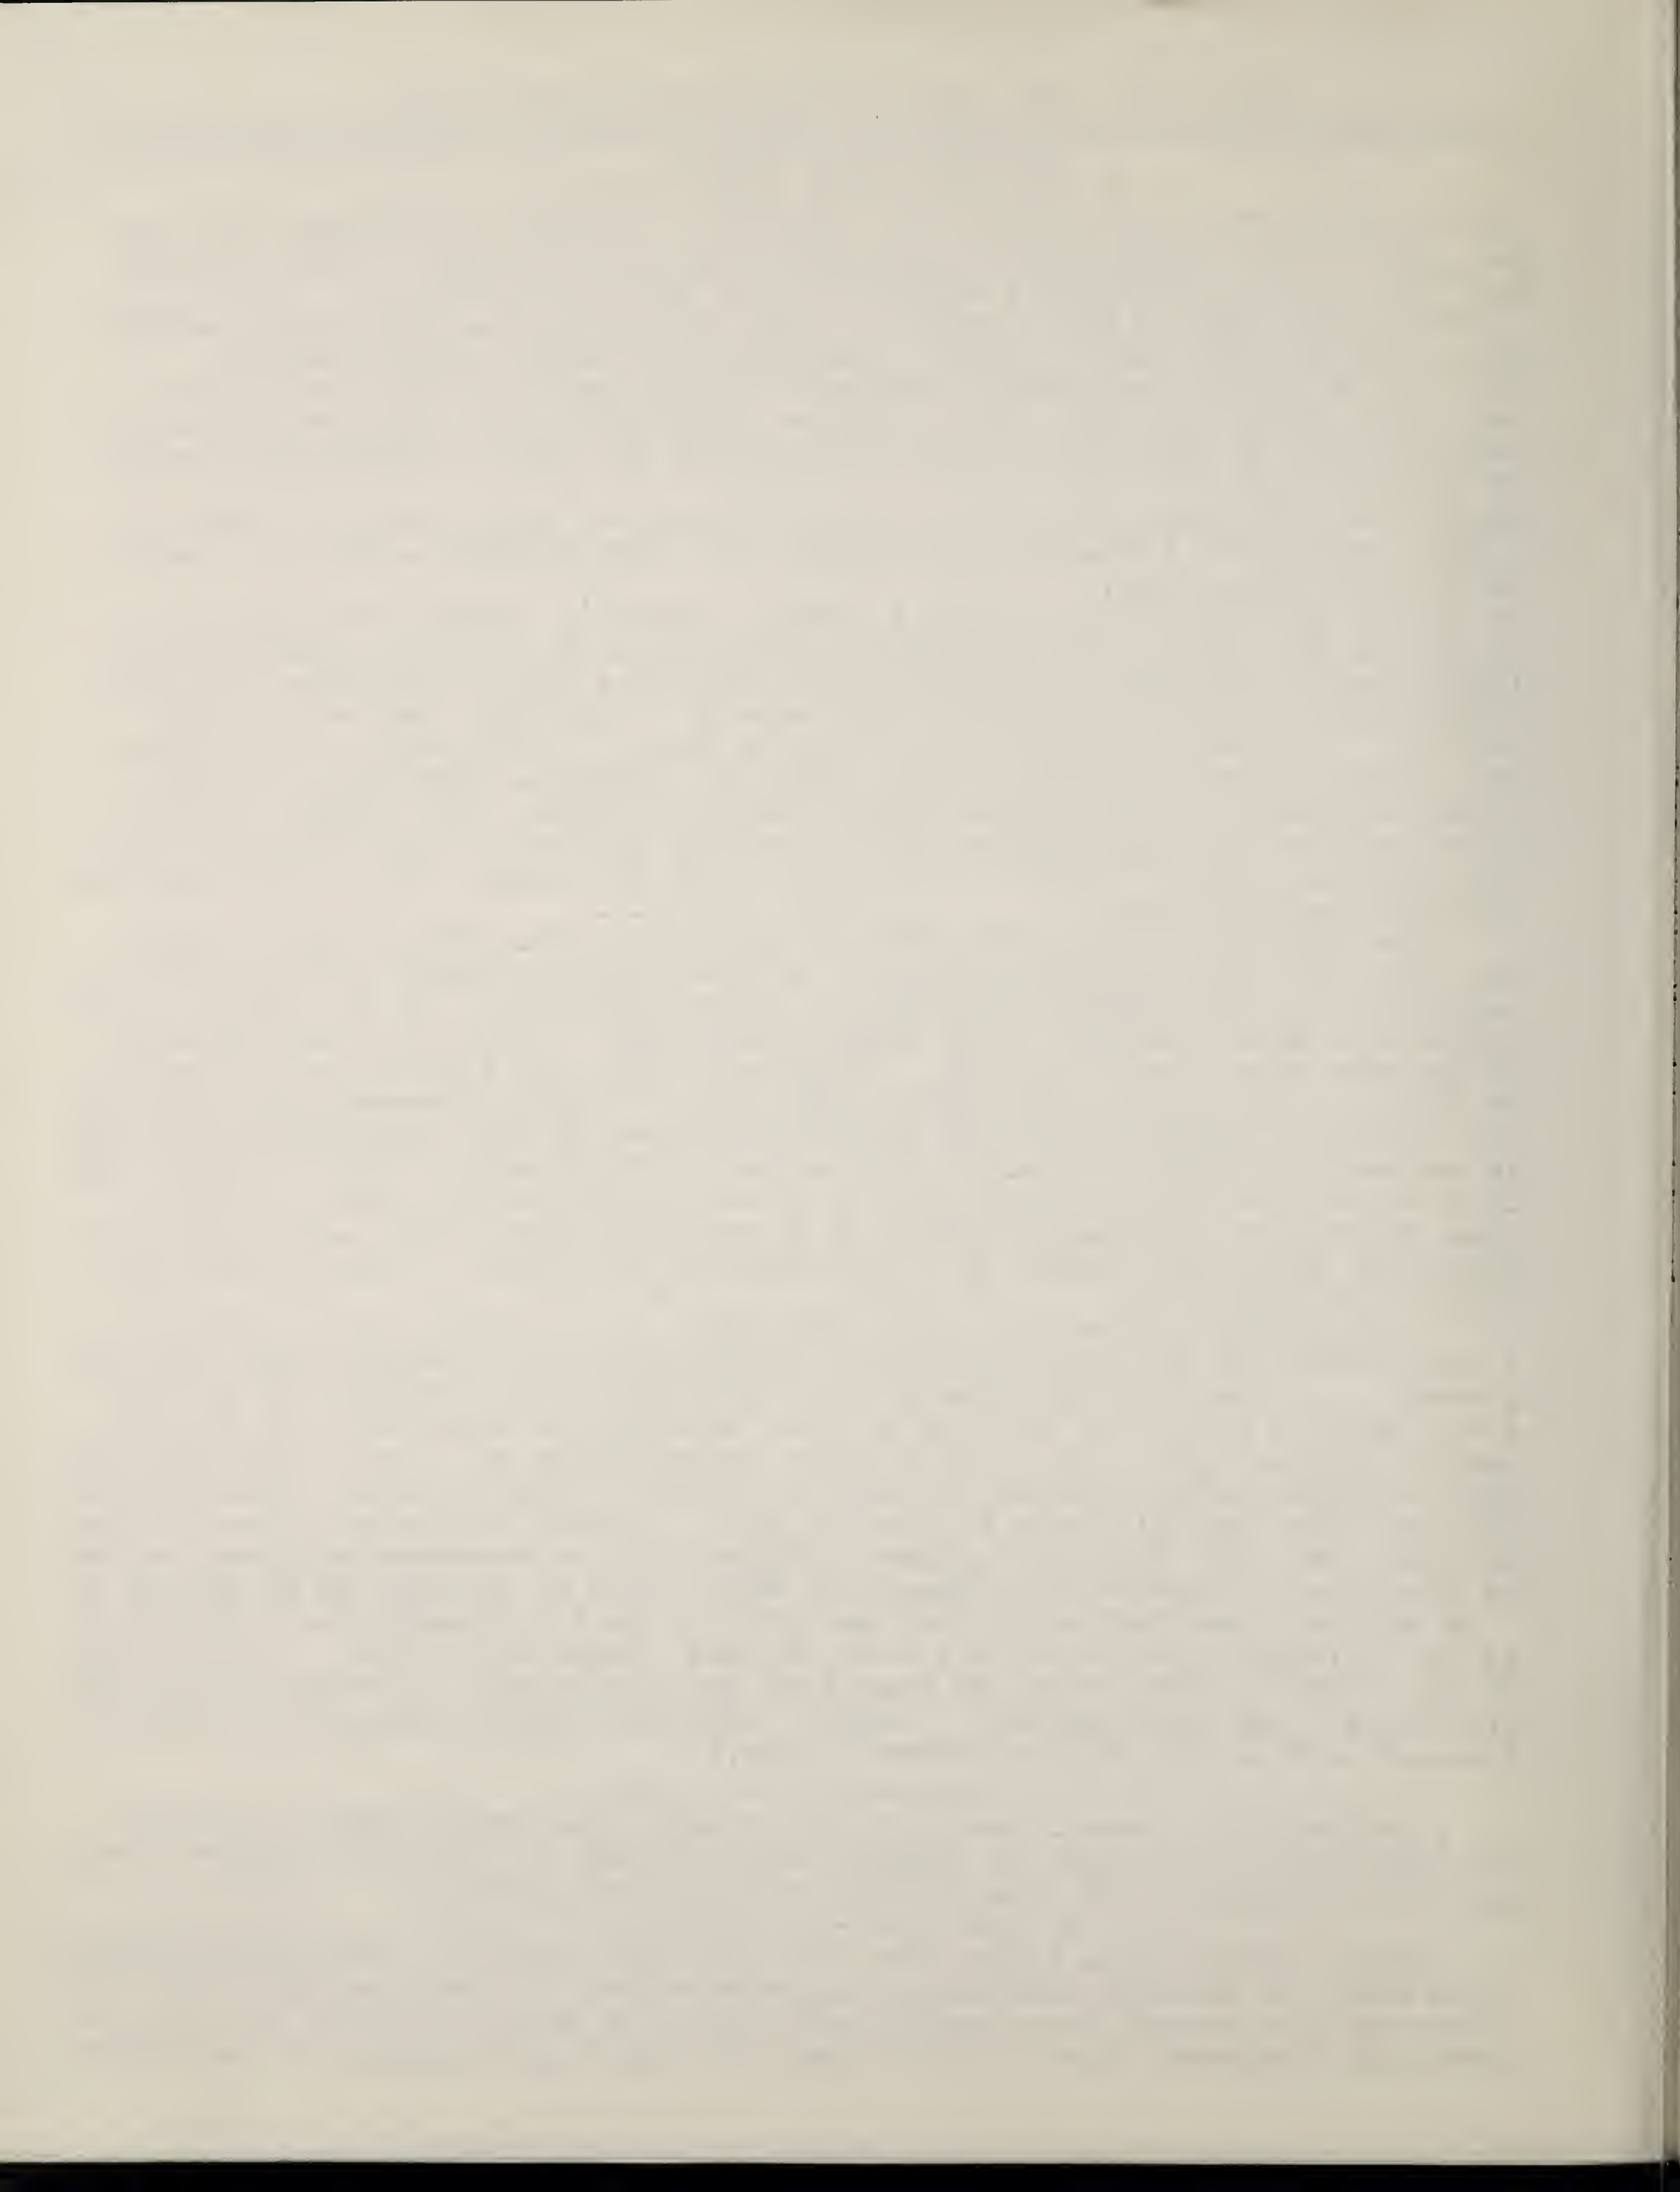

The following is a letter from Henry Hial Hawley Jr's. first wife to me: "St. Louis, Missouri, Aug 9 1933, ... I have never married again... Louis is buried in the Catholic cemetery at Chester, Illinois... I am working in St Louis in a shoe factory. I do fancy stitching. I stay with the children at Chester when I have no work. Karl and Harry are both full-fashioned knitters. Karl boards with Marie and Harry. I work whenever there is work for I am in perfect health and feel better when to have something of my own in pocket my pocket. I raised a nice garden this summer while I was in the Chester so that the children have potatoes, cabbage, carrots, and tomatoes. I also raised two bushels of onions on a small plot of ground about 10 X 20 ft. Then when shoe work picked up I hied back to St Louis. I also pieced four quilts the last year.

I am also a base ball fan. Karl plays in the local team at Chester. I am boarding at the Convent; get my board, washing and ironing done for $5.00 a week. I forgot to mention our religion which is Catholic. I get up every morning from 5 to 5:30; go to Mass at 6:30; breakfast at 7:00 o'clock; and to work at 7:45. It is only about three blocks so I just walk home again a little after 5:00; supper 5:30 to 6:00. Someday when I have time I will collect some pictures to send to you. I think I have two fine children but this one that died was mother's boy; he told me he never not long before he died that he never got a chance to visit with me as much as he wanted to

He was baptised before he died and got the last sacraments so I know he is in Heaven; so don't wish him back to this wicked old world. Well, I will close for this time hoping to hear from you again soon. I remain your cousin, I hope I may call myself. Benjamin of Lansing owned a cottage at Big Crooked Lake and they spend many happy week ends fishing there. He sold his interest and now owns a cottage at the famous Lake Nipissing. It was my privilege and pleasure to visit in the Archie Hawley home during the summer of 1931. We spent a few week ends at the lake where I did my first fishing, -over the side of the boat and happily caught some blue gill fish. Aunt Agnes went sometimes. She kept house and raised chickens. Vining brought me home via automobile from Webberville to Manchester. We stopped in Muscatine over night; needed rest for he drove without stopping the 535 miles, -leaving Archie's at 3:15 a.m. and arriving at Muscatine at 5:00 P.M. Good think we had a sack of lunch in the car. I paid expenses of the trip sending Vining back via Milwaukee and across the lake by boat. I went with him as far as Milwaukee.

Archie's grandfather and Viola's grandmother were cousins. Sarah Hartman Holmes Colegrove had the Benjamin Franklin cradle that Archie now has. It came down on the Colegrove side; Benjamin Franklin being an ancestor.

GRANDMA HAWLEY HAD CENTURY OF LIFE

Strict Sunday Observance. Watched Erie Canal Built When a Child. Related to Yale College Founders. Born August 8 1812, in New York State. Tells Early Experiences and Incidents.

One hundred and one years of life, -that is a record achieved by Grandma Hawley of College Springs on August 8th. Now she is lying ill at the home of her son, Albert W. Hawley. A few weeks ago she fell and broke her limb and recovery is uncertain. But she is still bright and cheerful, and recalls many interesting stories of events during her century of life.

Grandma Hawley was born Aug 8 1812 at Livona, Livingston Co., N.Y. Her parents were Peleg Wetmore and Rebecca Rice. Her mother was descended from a famous colonial family, a grand daughter of Thomas Yale, a brother of the founder of Yale University. The Yales came from Wales to England thence to America. A brother came to America but returned to England, saying he refused to stay here and be hacked up by Indians.

Sarah Wetmore (that was Grandma Hawley's maiden name) was the oldest in a family of nine children. The brothers and sisters bore the unusual names of Lucina, Miron, Nore, Monroe, Miranda, Horas, Oren Yale, and Orestus. O.C. Wetmore of College Springs is a son of Orestus.

Parents in those days were very strict, especially on the Sabbath Day. People went about with drawn faces and children were often whipped for not keeping still on the Sabbath. One man whipped a child to death and was sent to prison. Another acquaintance of Grandma's childhood whipped a cat for catching a mouse on Sunday. Some playmates were whipped for tossing a ball a few times on Sunday. One of the little girls of the family was doing something of which her mother disapproved one day. The mother said, "Rebecca, don't you know this is the Sabbath?" The child answered, "Oh, dear, Tabby Days come so tick, can't wink my eyes 'tween Tabby Days." The children could only read Bible tracts; were taught to sit still and be still, to be seen and not heard. They never ate at the table with the grown folks.

But there are joyful memories as well as doleful ones. The Wetmores lived near Kenishus Lake and the children had merry times paddling about on a log. Sometimes they went in a boat. One day Sarah and Lucina and two neighbor girls went out in a leaky boat and were nearly drowned. They baled water out diligently and were finally rescued.

When Sarah was six years old she watched the building of the Erie Canal near her home. She sat by the canal by the hour and watched the boat and workmen. Before she that time everything had been hauled from Buffalo, one hundred miles away by stage.

In those days they sparsaid flax and spun and wove it. Grandma Hawley has spun many pounds of yarn and thread. She tells of hetcheling flax, that is, beating it over a board.

In those days it was thought that women needed no education they were made to work, and as soon as the girls were big enough to be of much help schoolin must cease.

Although most of their neighbors and friends kept slaves the Wetmores did not. Although Abolition sentiment was in its infancy the Wetmores did not approve of ownership of human beings.

When Sarah Wetmore was fourteen years of age her mother died and Sarah and her youngest brother went to live with an Uncle in Ohio. On Thanksgiving Day 1835 she was married to Marquis Adams Hawley in Lenawee County, Michigan.

Grandma Hawley has had three children, two sons and one daughter; Jerome, Lucina, and Albert W. Hawley. Lucina died in 1867 leaving a daughter, Jennie Smith who now lives in Loon Lake, Minnesota. Jerome died in 1894 leaving a son and a daughter now in Indiana. The youngest son, A.W. Hawley, lives in College Springs and Grandma has lived with them several years. A.W. Hawley has two sons and one daughter; Mace in New Jersey, Elihu Yale in Washington, and Mrs. Veda Loudon of College Springs. Altogether there are six grandchildren, eight great grandchildren, and three great, great grandchildren.

A.W. Hawley came to College Springs in 1866. In a short time he moved to a farm near Blanchard, Iowa. In the winter of 1867 Grandma came to visit them. In 1868 A.W. Hawley and family moved to a farm at Willsburg and Grandma and Grandma Hawley (Marquis), came to live with them bringing their little granddaughter. In 1875 they moved to a farm west of Tarkio and there Grandpa Hawley died in 1878. In 1884 the Hawleys moved to Blanchard where A.W. Hawley engaged in hardware business. In 1905 they moved to Shenandoah and in 1908 to College Springs where they have lived ever since.

Grandma Hawley has been blind the past year, but retained excellent health until a few years ago. Now she is quite feeble and her accident leaves her in a precarious condition.

DEATH OF CENTENARIAN. GRANDMA HAWLEY GONE

Was one hundred and one years and 25 days old, -fell and broke leg several weeks ago.

College Springs, Aug. 30; While the story of Grandma Hawley was being set in type for publication in last Friday's issue, the gentle old lady passed away at the home of her son, A.W. Hawley, in College Springs. She was 101 years and 23 days old. Several weeks ago she fell and broke her leg and had been in a precarious condition ever since.

The funeral services were held at the home Friday afternoon. Interment was made in the Blanchard cemetery."

Freeman & Rhoda Herrick & Wley-Hubbard had ~~the~~ children

Freeman Wley was born on his father's farm near Victor, N.Y., and was brought up by adoption by a family named Hubbard. He married Rhoda Herrick, and on May 15 1852 (or thereabout) started for California from Lorain, Ind. or from Delta, Fulton Co., N.Y. He went by the name of Hubbard. It is believed that he was the youngest son of Thomas and Elizabeth Wley.

After his death his widow returned to Ohio, to Delta, to live with her brother, Eliza Herrick. Correction: Rhoda did not return to Ohio, but d. in Oregon.

Just when the family moved to Oregon is not known but in a letter from Ephraim Wley, N.Y. to her cousin, Wley-Herrick, Lorain, Ind. under date of Jan 27 1856, it says that Uncle Freeman lived in the same town in California as did her brother, cousin, Eliza Wley-Herrick was in Sacramento and also in San Francisco 1854-55-56.

It is desired to obtain more definite record of this family.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE 30TH ANNUAL REUNION OF THE HERRICK FAMILY, July 23 1927, at Chester, Ohio. By Pres. Sidney L. Herrick. Celebrating the 300th anniversary of the migration of Henry Herrick to America.

WHO ARE WE ?

Regner, King of Denmark, married Thora daughter of Hereth, King of Sweden (842-856), descendant of Noah through the old line of Swedish kings, who were direct descendants of Noah through Hago, son of Noah, he settled in Gothland A.D. 1744 or eighty-eight years after the flood. Preceding Regner we have a record of five generations, all kings of Sweden, and following him we have a record of five generations of royal blood, bringing us to Ericke, the first semblance of the name 'Herrick'. Then follows nine generations of royal blood with names somewhat similar until the twenty-first when we have John Herrick the grandfather of Henry who was born in 1614, emigrated to America in 1627; settled in eastern Massachusetts and died there leaving eight children. His second child Zacharia married and had a large family, but his family did not seem to grow and expand like the others so that today we do not know of a living male descendant of his. The next child Ephraim, whose descendants today are estimated to number at least ten or twelve thousand. Henry the fourth child, has not quite so many descendants. He is followed closely by his sister, Elizabeth in number of descendants. Then comes Joseph and John whose descendants compose a much smaller number. That Joseph lacked in number of Descendants he made up in quality for the records show that most of the Herricks of influence and prominence in America trace their ancestry back to him.

Ephraim had eight children. The descendants of these are the only ones we find who are holding reunions. Back to these we trace our ancestry. Henry the emigrant being the twenty-third generation born in Europe and we have at least twelve generations in America, so that our youngest relatives can trace their ancestry back thirty-five generations."

Rhoda Herrick was the daughter of James S and Jane (Diddy) Herrick, She had a brother Elijah, b. 1809, When she was ten and he twelve the family moved to Maumee, Ohio. in 1823. Freeman and Rhoda lived on the St Clair River north of Detroit and on March 25 1852 moved to California and later to Forest Grove, Oregon. They had a family and there are many descendants living there.
